Realtor Predicts Big Year In 1921

"Next year will see one of the big-gest rushes of business ever wit-nessed." said R. M. Hammond, local real estate dealer, Monday. "Take the real estate dealer, Monday. Take the real estate business for an example, as I am mor familiar with it. Just at present there is no business at all in that line, and dealers are prone to be pessimistic. But the very fact that there has been little property sold for the past half year indicate a wonderful year in 1921. The growing population must be provided with places to live, high prices or no. I think that real estate prices will remain the same, however. Property can not be sold for less. As a mat-ter of fact property has not gone up as much as have most other things."

GETS IN AGAIN.

Pardoned by Gov. Roberts from Tennessee state's prison on Thanks-giving day, John H. Lawson was ar-rested in J. Goldsmith & Sons' department store by Detective linspec-tor Griffin and Detective Brenner Saturday and charged with attempting to pass a worthless check. Police say Lawson tendered a check for $11 signed "M. R. Booker." He introduced himself, it is said, as Claude McMurray.
